Living and Loving in the age of AIDS - a Memoir by Derek Frost

Our editor Uwern devoured this book. It's delightfully honest, personal and heartfelt; not to mention enriching, but gut-wrenching in parts. It gives readers a greater appreciation for the devastation that HIV/AIDS had on previous generations. And besides the challenging subject matter, the book takes you time-travelling to a London many will know little about, while telling the stories of the fascinating queer people who made it the city it is today. Tops, Derek himself is extremely well travelled and the memoirs of his journeys are beautiful snapshots.
