

Jeremy Norman has taken over The Embassy Club with a sense of timing that's born not made and has turned it into Ultradisco for London's midnight ramblers - just as John Travolta leaps to fame in the disco movie Saturday Night Fever.

Peter York - Harpers & Queen Magazine

'Saturday Night Fever'

the movie starring John Travolta

The revamped Embassy Club in Bond Street, where the Prince of Wales once danced so elegantly with Wallis Simpson, is the nearest we have in London to New York's Studio 54.

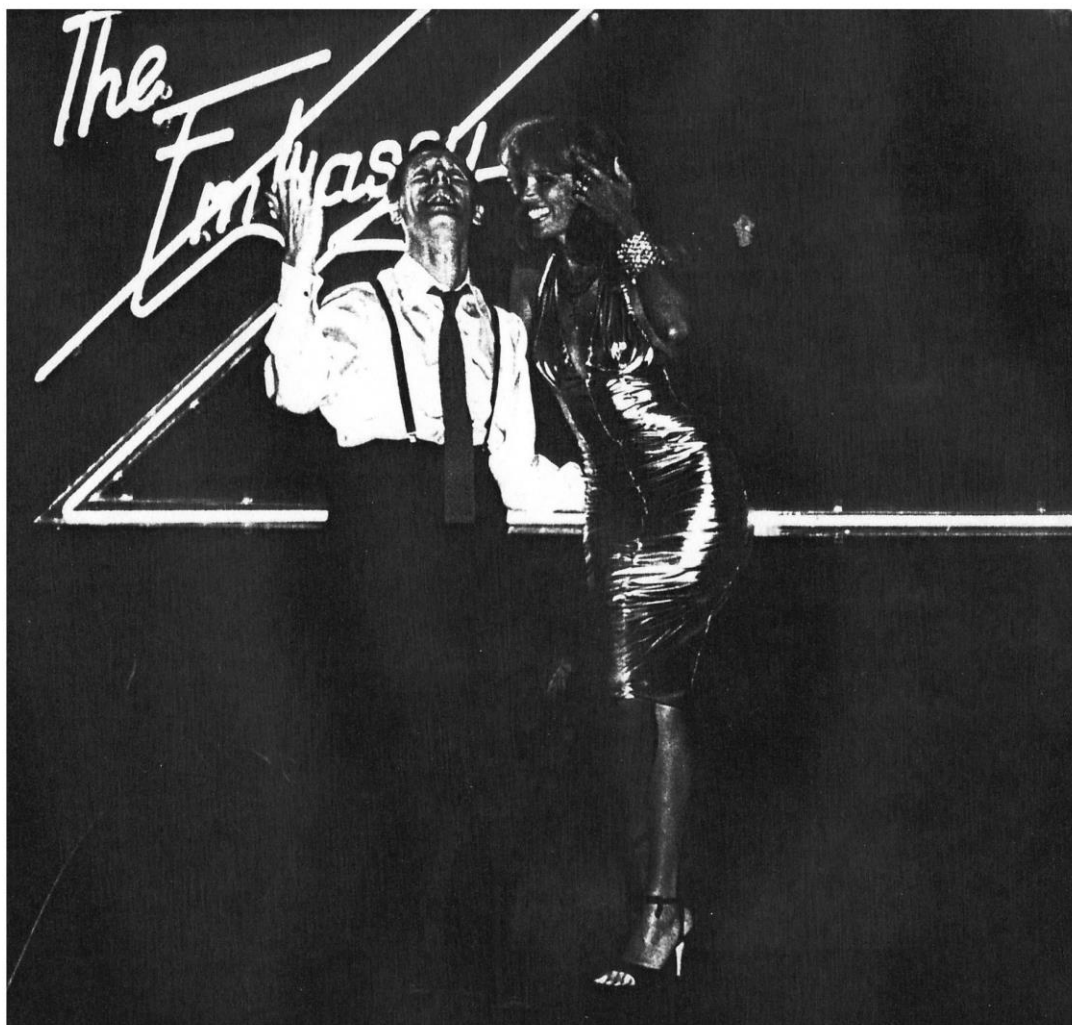

The Telegraph

The Embassy Club founders Derek Johns (left) & Jeremy Norman (centre) with club host Michael Fish

Host to society's creme de la creme in the 1920s and 1930s, London's reopened Embassy Club, now styled as a trisexual disco, is the city's first American-style disco and home to such party goers as Elton John, Rudolph Nureyev and Amanda Lear.

Diana Newell
- The Los Angeles Times

Michael Fish & Amanda Lear

The new Embassy Club is doing for disco music what the old Embassy did for jazz - importing a phenomenon, black and American in origins, sanitising it slightly and broadening its appeal.

Ian Jack - The Sunday Times

London's closest thing to Studio 54 is the outrageous Embassy Club located on fashionable Bond Street.

The New York Times

Me and My Shadow
Mr Fish takes a turn with Mr Fish

Angela Landels - Harpers & Queen Magazine

The Embassy Club atmosphere is certainly very bizarre, nay camp.
Skimpily-dressed male go-go dancers cavort on top of the bar, and waiters scurry past in satin boxer shorts and little else.

Richard Compton Miller
- The Evening News

Jeremy Norman (right) with Derek Frost

Michael Fish with disco dancers

Bianca Jagger comes here to dance.
So does David Bowie, Keith Moon, Amanda Lear and just about anyone else who wants to be seen to be anyone.

Richard Compton Miller
- The Evening News

Amanda Lear & Keith Moon

The Embassy Club is the place to see and be seen. After all, where else do you see Rod Stewart canoodling with his latest girl-friend in one corner, Bianca Jagger doing the Hustle in another and on the dance-floor itself Elton John swirling around the room with Olivia Newton John on his arm?

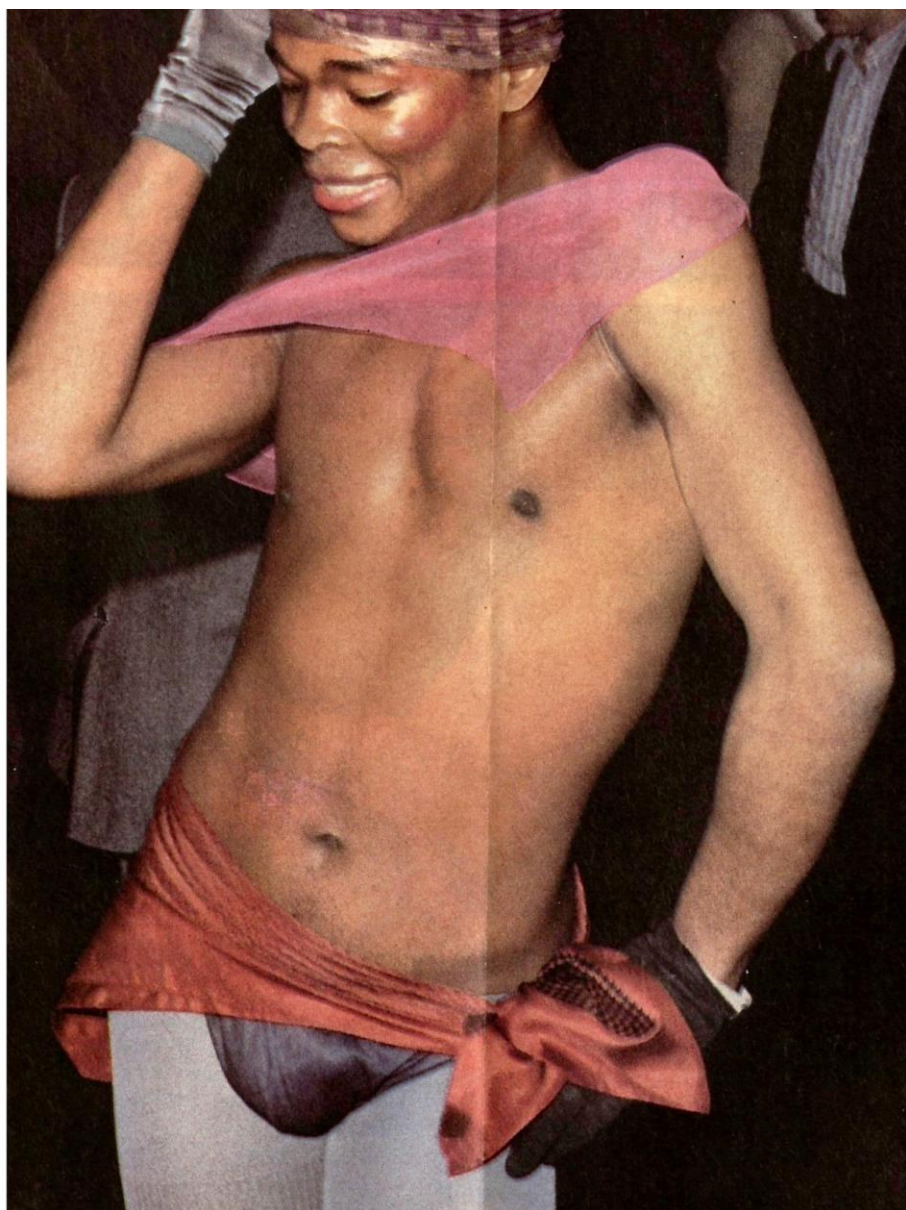

UK Press

Elaine Paige (left), club manager Stephen Hayter & Olivia Newton-John

All the men will wear leather and the girls lace - except for a few of the boys who also like wearing lace.

Richard Compton Miller
- The Evening News

One of the men responsible for the unprecedented success of The Embassy Club is Greg James, an American DJ whose whole show consists of a series of brilliantly executed segues, blends and mixes carried out with remarkable timing and precision, with no talk-over whatsoever.

UK Press

Greg James
The Embassy Club's DJ

Michael & Tina Chow with Tommy Nutter

Julie Christie

Michael Fish
&
Friend

George Chakiris (left) & Barry Manilow

Ebony's White Masked Ball at The Embassy Club

every night is a crazy party at The Embassy Club

Derek Frost

end of a tough night behind The Embassy Club bar

Bruce Forsyth & Anthea Refern

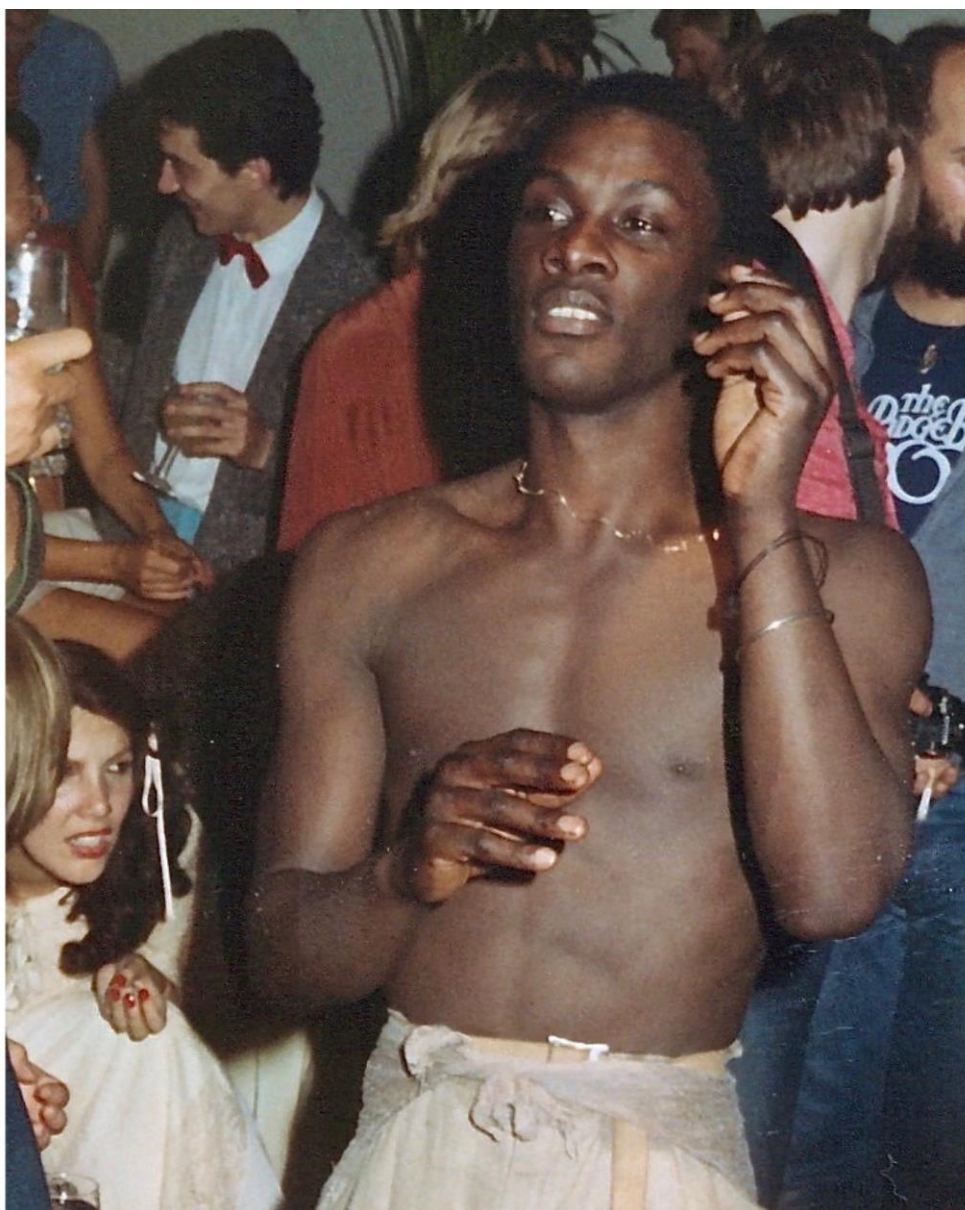

Bari Bacco - Frizz Magazine

Johnny Gairdner & friend

Janet Street Porter

Dicky Salmon & Johnny Galliher

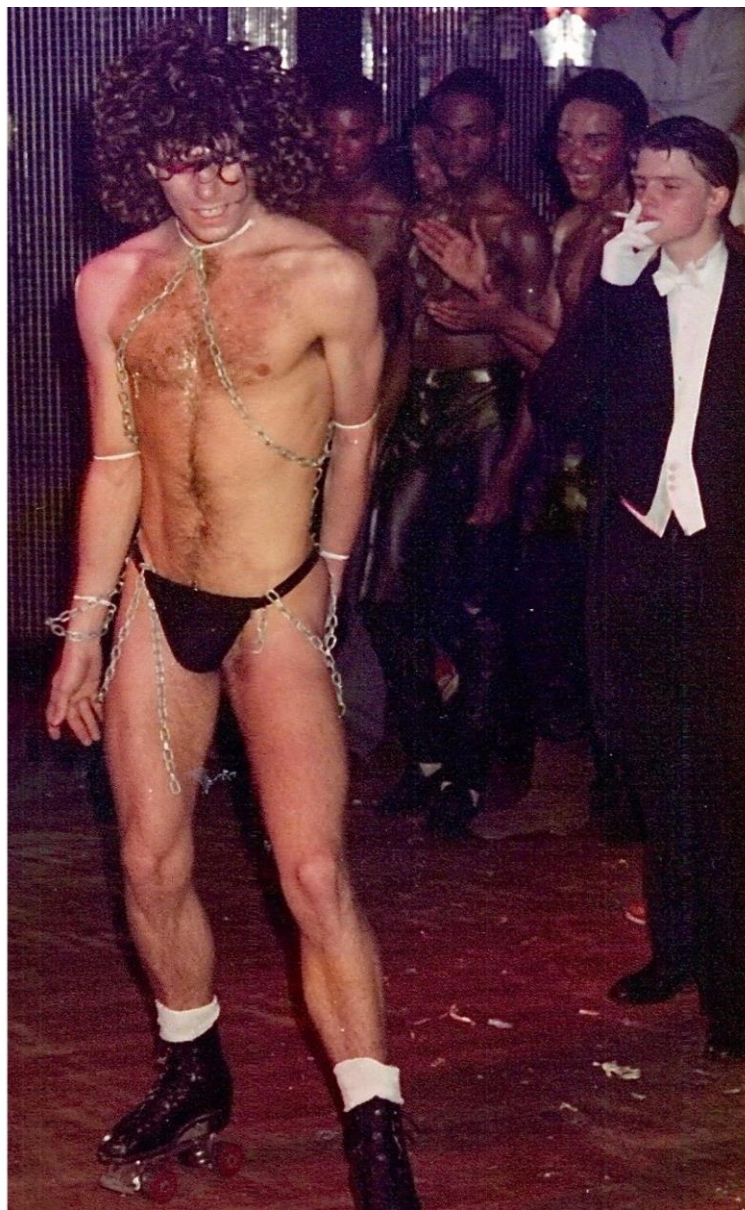

Peter & Judy Cook

Tina Chow & friend

Jennette Charles
&
Tony Elliot

Quentin Crisp & friend

Michael Fish's Mum who worked the coat check together with Tyrone and his Mum

Diane Solomon

Fit for a Disco queen

John St Clair & Julian Gibbs

Michael Fish

Art Garfunkel & Laurie Bird

Nicky Haslam & Bryan Ferry

Ossie
Clark

The pleasure of your company is requested for the

EMBASSY INDEPENDENCE DAY BALL

or King George III's Biggest Loss Party?

Tuesday 4th July 1978

10 pm until 3 am

Dress 'Casual USA'

Members and US Guests with US Passports £6

Guests £8

Full turkey dinner and open bar throughout the evening including champagnes

Please present this invitation at the door for you and your guests

Advance tickets
7 Old Bond Street
London W1
Telephone 01 499 5974/75

Amanda Lear

Bubbles Rothemere &
'I've got what it Takes'

Amanda Lear & friend

party time continues at The Embassy Club

At 3am Steve Rubell, owner of New York's Studio 54, departs. The US majorettes are still bogeying on the bar tops, the bus-boys in satin shorts still scurrying around with champagne. Studio 54 has happened - it's at The Embassy Club.

Richard Compton Miller
- The Evening News

Steve Rubell

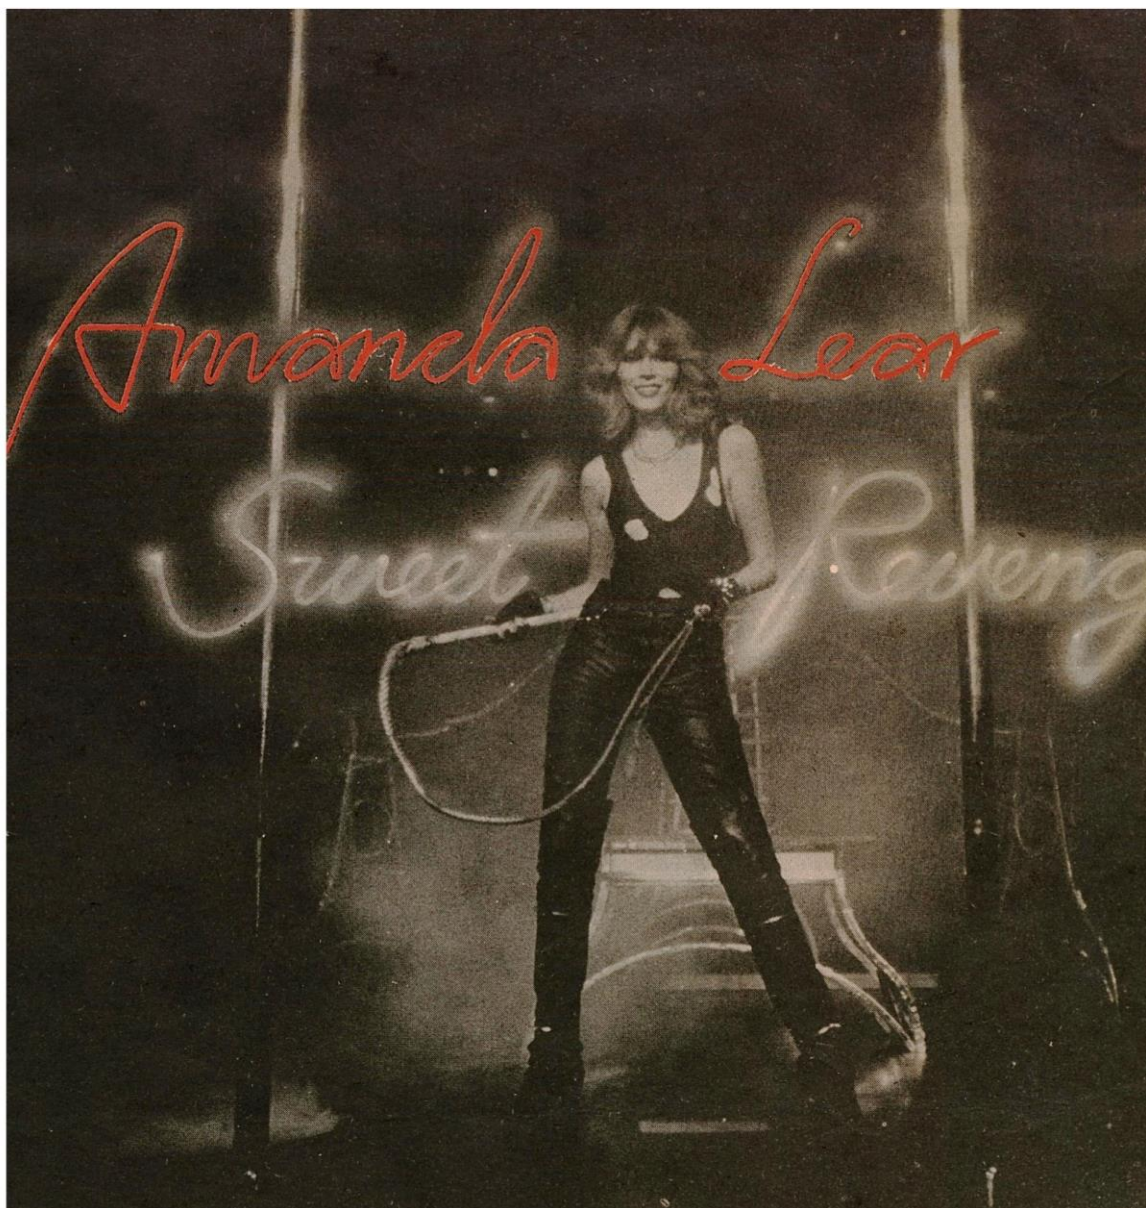

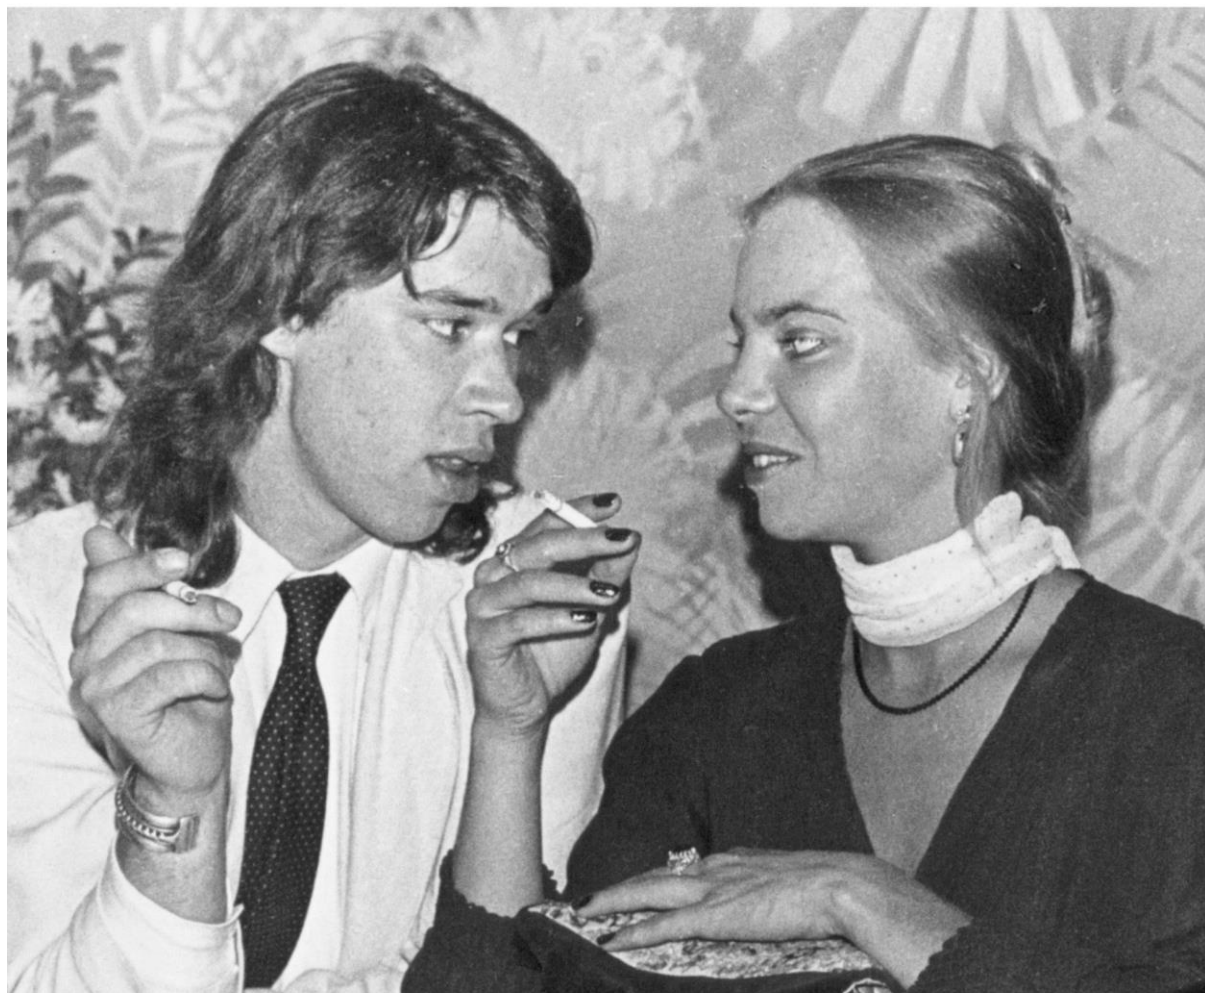

Pierce & Cassandra Brosnan

David Bailey & Marie Helvin

"14 PLUS MINUS 18" "TEENAGE DISCO"

Starting on April 19th
the Embassy Club will be holding 14 PLUS MINUS 18 Discos one night a week, 6.00 pm - 11.00 pm Thursdays at the Club.
Only those 14 and under will be eligible to attend as members or guests.
(No alcohol will be served.) There will be a door charge of £2 for both members and guests.
Parents, accompanied by their teenagers, will be admitted as guests.
The committee will be holding a totally free preview party on Wednesday the 18th of April.
Members will be invited to this special preview party and, of course, the opening on the 19th of April.

I wish to apply for membership of "14 PLUS MINUS 18" at Embassy Club by completing this coupon and returning it to:

SURNAME

ADDRESS

TELEPHONE NO.

AGE

DATE OF BIRTH

SIGNATURE (TEENAGER TO SIGN AT)

For more information, please order for £1.00 (includes postage) and Embassy Club, long, one and a half hour disco 14 PLUS MINUS 18

The Embassy

7 Old Broad Street,
London WC1X 3TA
Telephone: 01-493 5574/5

Mary G O'Donnell & Michael Fish

Bari Bacco & friends that was one "helluva" fabulous party

thank you Jeremy Norman and
The Embassy Club
team

